

User Study of the AndroiDJ Application: Consent Form

Conducted by Weston Thayer, Matt Heitzer, and Rob Smith

Study Goals:

The purpose of this research is to explore the usability of our Mobile DJ application. We are interested in feedback from research participants regarding the ease of use, functionality and feature depth of our application.

We are collecting this data in order to discover what other people, like yourself, think about our product. We will analyze all collected data with respect to the betterment of our application.

Procedures:

First, we would ask you to fill out a brief background questionnaire. Secondly, we would give you some background information on both our application, and other similar applications. Then we would ask you to perform some basic tasks with our application and answer a few questions. Finally, we would ask you to fill out a post-test questionnaire.

Participant Consent:

Your participation is voluntary and all collected data will be treated in a confidential manner. If you agree to participate in this research, please sign and date this form.
